Delegations of Mystic Shriners Come in on Special Trains.

DENVER'S DAZZLING CORPS.

El Jebel Temple With Prize Drill Team Will Exhibit at Saltair Tomorrow Afternoon.

Until Sunday afternoon when the last train will be hauled over to the Southern Pacific the Rio Grande Western will have its hands full with the Shriners who are hastening through to San Francisco for the occasion of the annual meeting of the imperial council of the shrine which officially begins Tuesday morning and continues for one week. Monday will be reception day and the council will be called to order on Tuesday morning in Golden Gate hall on Sutter street.

For the past three days the Shriners from the East, illustrious nobles, potentates, potationtates, grand chief na-bobs, plain and fancy unfrilled rank and file and wellgroomed individuals wear-ing black cigars and a red fez have n passing through in small unclassi fied herds. This morning, however, the stampede commenced with the following arrivals scheduled for the day First New York contingent, 8:15 a.m. sond New York contingent, 9:45 a. m Ishmalia temple, Buñalo, 10 a. m.; Mis sissippi Shriners, 12:35 p. m.; El Kahir temple, Cedar Rapids, Ia., 10 a. m.; Yaarab temple, Atlanta, Ga., 8:45 a. m.; Abdallah temple, Leavenworth, Kan., 7:45 a. m.; Murat temple, Indianapolis, 9:35 a. m.; Al Koran temple, Cleveland

This schedule, however, as far as th last named trains are concerned, wer glimmering this morning when it wa announced that all trains would b from four to six hours late owing t the breaking of a wheel on one of the Shriner specials in the Grand canyon some miles this side of Glenwood Springs. The report said that while no one was injured at the same time t would take some time to clear the track. The unlooked for delay has had the effect of somewhat demoralizing affairs, especially as far as those who have to make close connections are

In addition the Lulu Temple from the Quaker City passed through Ogden this morning en route for the coast in all the pomp and glory of a gorgeous special via the Union Pacific. The Overland and the Short Line today also handled several parties who took a rur around the city and sampled the zem-zem on draught. Among those who arrived was a delegation from the Isis Temple, Salina, Kansas, The Osam special over the Short Line is due to arrive at 7 p. m.

Tomorrow the small boy will undoubt-edly go into transports of delight over the arrival of the patrol of the El Jehel Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine which left Denver early this morning in a special over the Denver & Rio Grands and Rio Grande Western. The train consists of five Pullmans, a diner and a baggage car. In the afternoon they will go out to Saltair, where they will engage in an exhibition drill clad in all the pomp and clay of their screening. jackets white leggrannamannamannaman en gings and Oriental headgear.

This dizzy attraction consists of 24 making eight men and three officers, ets of threes in the ranks. As there are three prizes to be competed for and most of the patrol were members of the team of the Knights Templar which took first prize at Louisville last year, it is expected that this stalwar aggregation of good fellows will capture a purse at San Francisco.

Among the distinguished visitors who rives tonight was Philip C. Shaffer, the imperial potentate.

Tehuantepec Road Will Shortly Compete With the Panama Route.

San Francisco, June 6 .- "By June 1 1963, the Tehuantepec railroad across the isthmus of that same name in Mexico, will compete with the Pana-ma route and the American overland lines for a share of the shipments be tween the Atlantic seaboard and th Pacific coast.

This statement was made by J. J Allen of the City of Mexico, genera traffic manager of the road who is in this city. "The Mexican government cwns the Tehauntepec road," said Mr Allen, 'but has leased it for 50 years It is 185 miles long. Its Atlantic terminus is Coalzacoalcos, while Salina Cruz is the Pacific terminus.

'It is the intention between now and June 1 of next year to have a steamer line between New York and Coalzacoal-cos and between Salina Cruz and San Francisco. For the Atlantic service three modern steamers of 7,000 tons each, with a speed of 18 knots an hour are being built under American regis ter. I cannot say what vessels we will have on this side. We expect to handle the cotton shipments from the gulf states to the Orient, in addition to other freight.

In the neigh-borhood of 1,500 persons, from the city and county, availed themselves of the opportunity of having an outing and meeting friends. Many nationalities were represented, but the predominating element was Danish, the day being celebrated in memory of th signing of the Danish constitution on the 5th day

During the afternoon there were foot aces between little boys and girls, and prizes were distributed. A boat race between P. W. Madsen, F. S. Fernstrom and C. M. Nielsen created much merri-ment. Mr. Madsen came out ahead, with Mr. Fernstrom closely following until the latter encountered an island. which the boat refused to penetrate.

Appropriate speeches were delivered by L. Moth Iversen, J. M. Sjodahl, C. M. Nielsen and O. P. Olsen. A cakewalk by girls under ten years was a pretty feature of the program. Hulda Nelson received a silk parasol, as a prize, and her partner, Dagmar Lund, a gold pin, her pariner, Dagmar Lund, a gold pin, while all the other participants were made happy by boxes of candy, distributed among them. In the evening a well patronized dramatic entertainment was given. C. A. MIGHTY MASS OF ORE. For Ten Miles it is a Free Milling Proposition.

Frank E. Gavin of Boise is a guest at the Kenyon. He has been all over the Thunder mountain and Rainbow minsentatives of the Vanderbilt roads met here today at the anual meeting of the Chicago & Northwestern railain ores are mostly $8 to $10 ores. but the district for ten miles square is one solid mass of free milling ore, which obviates the necessity of smelt ing, and all that is necessary is to set up a set of stamps and start in. Mr. Gavin thinks that in a short time a dozen companies will be putting up stamp mills, and that invidual claim owners will organize into companies for mining and string, so that there will be no lack of milling facilities for all. The ores are so friable that they can be thrown into the batteries and pounded up by the stamps without the previous use of a rock crusher.

At the sam etime outside of this mmediate district are base and free milling ores mingled together, so that a smelter will be called for later on. As to the number of claims taken up, Mr. Gavin does not believe over 4,000 or 5. 00 have been taken up as yet, and here is plenty of room, or will be for a short time. He thinks there will be 9,000 people in the Thunder mountain district this summer, and the excite-ment is filling up the state rapidly. The effect of this on politics, Mr. Gavin thinks, can be readily seen, and it means that blaho will be Republican Logan Citizens Protest Against Burden Imposed on Them.

HEAVY TAXATION.

The etate board of equilization received yesterday a petition from Logan, dated June 4, signed by Joseph Morrell, H. C. Hayball, and J. L. Stewart, stating that a mass meeting had just been held at Logan to protest against the unequal and unjust burden mposed on the citizens of Logan and vicinity by the county assessor in the excessively high valuation placed on local real estate. The meeting called on the state board for investigation and relief. The county commissioners had been consulted, but they professed in-ability to do anything, although they conceded that it was a case of overtaxation.

GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST BOOK TRUST.

Just now there is taking place in Salt Lake City what should be of more interest to the people of the state than even the Mortensen trial. That is the adoption of textbooks for the public schools during the next five years. Tremendous interests are involved in the awarding of contracts and consequently It is natural to suppose that bribery and corruption will get in its insidious

The writer spent one day at the convention, and came in contact with all sorts of pushers of this book or that. long as ligitimate methods of pro moting are followed, zeal must be counted commendable; but charges are now being made, both covertly and openly, that the book trust has captured and is capturing everything in sight

The head of this octopus, so it is charged, is the American Book company; the tentacles are represented by firms, ostensibly working alone, but actually and truly as much a part the trust as is the head itself. charged that every book adopted so far, with the exception of the grammars, which remain unchanged, is a trust book; that whatever be the discussion concerning the merits of other books, when it comes to a "show down" the "deadly 15" are always on hand to carry out the behests of the trust.

Bets are freely indulged that the trust history and the trust readers will win in the contest. This latter suspicion self before this letter can be published My interest in this matter is purely that of "fair play;" and I am willing to give these reports an airing over my own signature, even at the risk of antagonizing some of my best friends. That there is a book combination in the field seems more than probable to me. At any rate, what has been called the book trust has a thoroughly orinent educators, reporters, and perhaps one powerful newspaper. Nor is anyone so unsophisticated as to believe that a trust will hesitate to place money where ft will do the most good, whether inside or outside of the convention. But while I would not credit a trust with the least shred of a conscience. I ganized lobby, including lawyers, prom-

do not on the other hand believe the rank and file of these county superin tendents are accepting bribes. One precaution, however, it seems to me, they ought to have taken. Hitherto the vote on textbooks has been by secret ballot The public, it seems to me, is entitled ed; and no honest man will be afraid of tend to disprove the charge of corru tion, if it is false, as I verily being That it has not been followed purely a matter of oversight.

PROF. MILLERT OUT OF HIGH SCHOOL.

Dismissed Out of Deference to Principal Eaton.

RELATIONS DISAGREEABLE.

fter Learning of Action of Board French Instructor Tenders His Resignation, Which Was Accepted.

In executive session as a committee

the whole last night the board of ducation decided to dispense with the services of Prof. E. B. Millert, the French instructor of the High school, out of deference to the wishes of Principal George A. Eaton. Of course the proceedings were behind closed doors and as thorough as the investigation was nothing was given out except the mere fact that the principal had carried his point.

The disagreeable relations between he principal and the professor are said to have existed for several months, and that they were perfectly apparent to the members of the school. It is said that Mr. Eaton represented that Prof. Millert was not as efficient in his work this year as he was last, which was an added reason for wanting his re-moval. Supt. Christensen was disposed to think more of Prof. Millert's work than the principal, but he held that inasmuch as Mr. Eaton was at the head of the school and was responsible for its work his wishes should be acceded to, hence the removal. As soon as Prof. Millert was informed of the action of the board he tendered his recognition, which was accepted at the regular meeting that followed the ommittee meeting. There was nothing in the regular session to indicate that the professor had been under discus-As to the balance of the High school
